Report on Ugadi Sambrama

On Monday, April 8, 2024, as part of the Ugadi festival, students from Kala Sinchana Cultural Forum decked the Kuvempu Vedhike with rangoli and the doors with green swags. According to Cultural Secretary Arpitha, H.J., celebrating Ugadi is a better way to live a joyful life than a life filled with unhappiness. In celebration, the students gave everyone mangoes and neem jaggery.

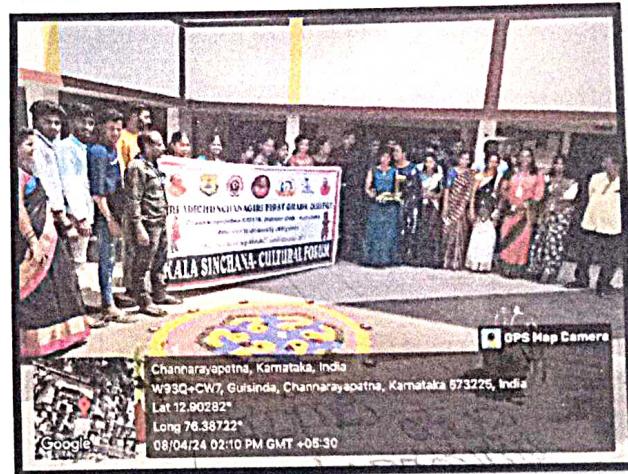

Ugadi, derived from the words yug (era) and adi (new), marks the start of a new era according to the lunar calendar. It is believed that Lord Brahma created the world on this day. Celebrated in Telangana, Andhra Pradesh, and Karnataka, Ugadi signifies the start of spring and the New Year.
