REPORT ON: 07-12-2024 ESSAY WRITING COMPETITION TOPIC: SOIL IMPORTANCE AND SOIL EROSION

On December 07, 2024, the Botany Department hosted an essay writing competition for first B.sc(cbz) students on the theme of Soil importance and soil erosion in honour of World Soil Day on December 5th. The competition included 15 students from B.SC. The head of the Botany department, Sowmya c.v was presented.

Soil plays a crucial role in sustaining life on Earth. It is the foundation for growing plants, which in turn provide food, oxygen and habitat for all living organism. To raise awareness about the importance of soil and encourage its conservation, World Soil Day is celebrated every year on December 5th. this day is dedicated to recognizing the significance of soil in maintaining ecosystem, supporting agriculture and fighting climate change. Through this essay we will explore the importance of soil and how we can protect it for future generations.
