Special lecture programme on
'Impact of Vijayanagara Dynasty in South India'

Date: 12-12-2024

Department of History organized a special lecture programme on 'Impact of Vijayanagara Dynasty in South India' on 12-12-2024 at Seminar Hall. The programme commenced with the invocation song has been sung by Lakshmidevi and team, 1st B.A. Soon after the invocation song, Mr. Shekhiran, Head of the Department, welcomed the chief guest and the dignitaries on the stage. After that the programme has been inaugurated at 10.30AM, through watering plant as a symbol of growth of hopes and dreams in future.

Prof. Naveen.K , the chief guest of the program, addressed that the Vijayanagara Dynasty (1336–1646) had a profound and lasting impact on South India, shaping its political, cultural, and economic landscape. It was established by Harihara I and Bukka Raya I, the empire unified much of the region, providing political stability and resisting external invasions, especially from the Delhi Sultanate and the Deccan Sultanates. Its centralized administration, supported by provincial Nayakas, ensured effective governance across vast territories.

In his presidential address Dr.M.K. Manjunatha, principal said that the decline of the empire began after the Battle of Talikota in 1565, but its cultural and administrative legacy persisted in successor states. The Vijayanagara Dynasty's contributions to South India remain monumental, preserving Hindu traditions and promoting economic and artistic achievements that define the region's heritage even today.

The organizer of the program and the head of the Department of History, Shekhiran, also spoke about the program and disclosed the administrative system of those days. Finally the programme concluded with vote of thanks delivered by Kum. Jayashri, II BA(HK) to the participants guests , faculty members, from various departments and students.
