DEPARTMENT OF ZOOLOGYReport on field visit to College of Agriculture, Karekere, Hassan

Date: 27/01/2023

On January 27, 2023, at 11:00 am, with the consent of the principal, Dr. Manjunath M. K., and the head of the zoology department, Dr. Nirupama M., we all attended the College of Agriculture in Karekere, Hassan.

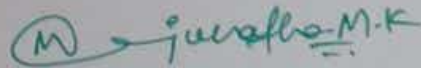

First, we went to the entomology lab, where Dr. Sunitha T. R., Assistant Professor, Department of Agricultural Entomology, gave a presentation on apiculture and demonstrated the tools used in beekeeping. We then went to the agronomy lab, where Dr. Pramod, an assistant professor in the department, described the process of vermiculture and the significance of vermicomposting.

Following a lunch break for our students and faculty at 1:30, we visited to the Food Science and Nutrition Department to learn about food processing before moving on to the Biotechnology Department, where Dr. Kumarswamy, an assistant professor in biotechnology, gave a presentation on tissue culture.

Finally, we went on a field visit to learn more about the practical aspects of natural habitats and farming units for applied sciences, such as a vermiculture unit, a piggery, a poultry farm, an apiary, a dairy farm, and a biogas unit. Then, at around 4 pm, we arrived back at our college.
